Module 08

Learning Management

Build courses, assign them to the right people and track every completion. Employees learn on their phone, between shifts.

Training you can prove.

Most training still runs on an attendance register and a signature at the back of the room. When an auditor asks who was trained on working at heights, and when, the answer is in a filing cabinet, if it is anywhere.

LSFlow moves training onto the employee's phone and into one record. Every video watched, quiz passed and practical signed off is logged against the employee.

Any format

Use what you have

Video, PDF, reading, images, links and quizzes in one course.

Any phone

In the LSFlow app

Employees learn wherever they are, not only in the training room.

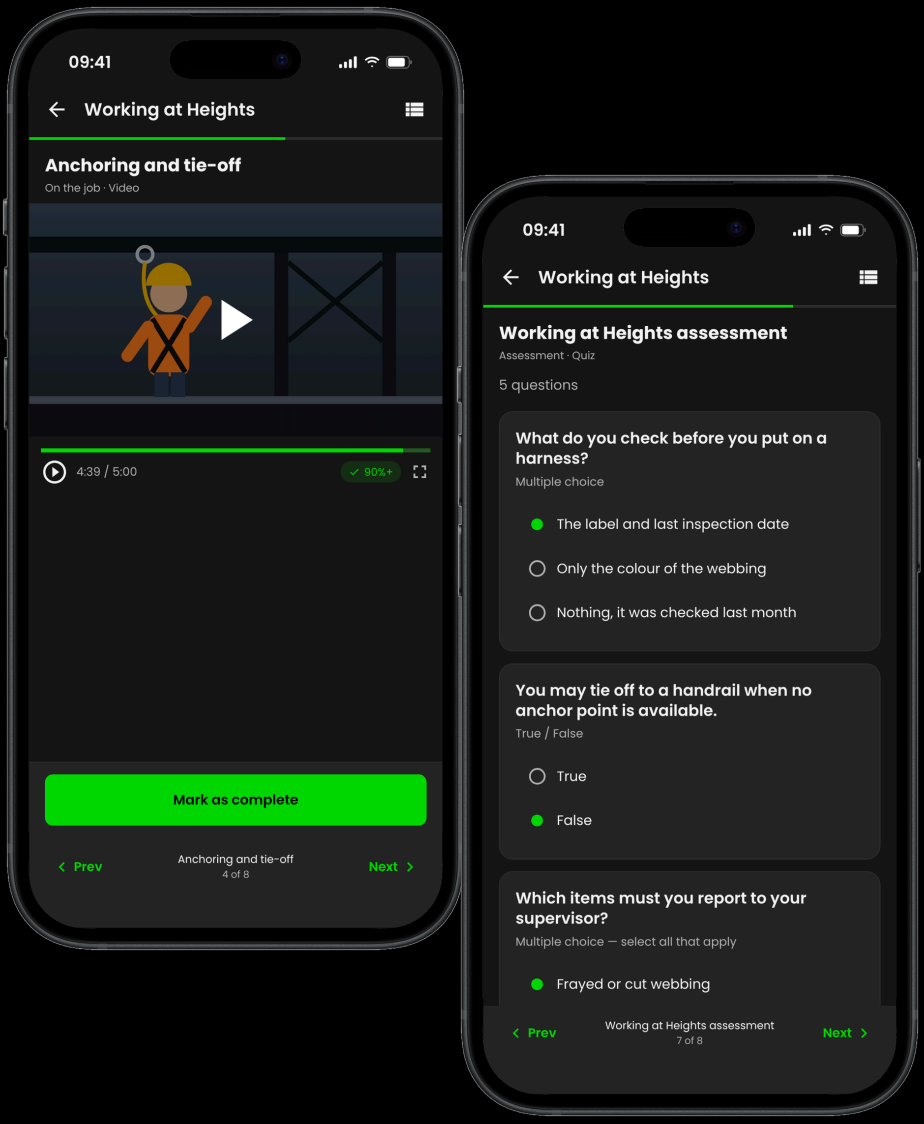

On record

Ready for the audit

Who finished what, when, with which score and who signed it off.

Learning that fits between shifts.

Employees open the Learning Center in the LSFlow app, see what is due and pick up where they left off.

Completion that counts

A video must be 90% watched, and a PDF read to the last page, before it can be marked complete.

In the right order

Lock a module until the one before it is finished.

Quizzes with a pass mark

An instant score, and another try when they fall short.

Read and acknowledged

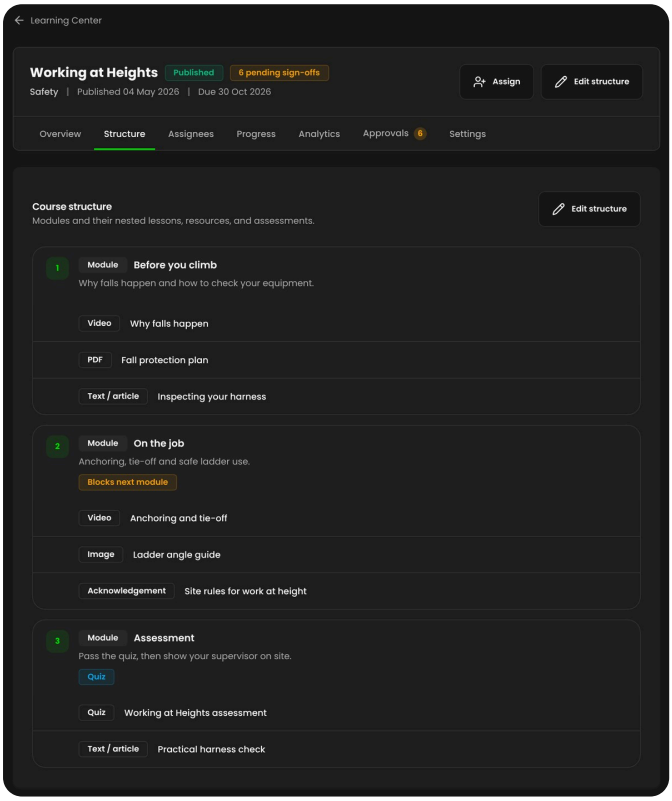

Policies and site rules are confirmed by the employee, not just sent.

On their phone

A notification when a course is assigned, and reminders before it is due.

Build a course in an afternoon.

Upload the material you already have, group it into modules and assign it to the people who need it.

Modules and lessons

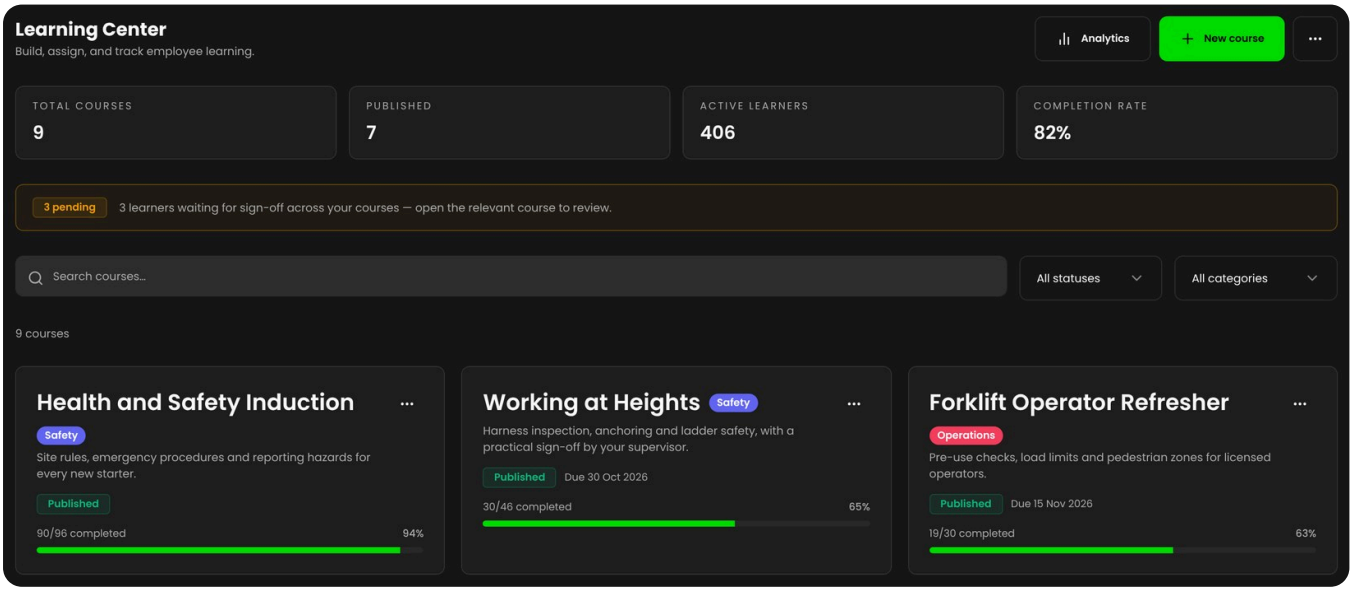

Mix videos, documents, quizzes and acknowledgements in one course.

Assign in one step

To named employees, whole departments or everyone, with a due date.

Draft, publish, archive

Work on a course until it is ready, then publish it to your learners.

Signed off on site, not just on screen.

Some skills need someone to watch. Add a practical sign-off to any lesson or course, and the approver signs it off once they have seen it done.

Course or lesson sign-off

Ask for approval on the whole course, or on one practical step inside it.

The right approver

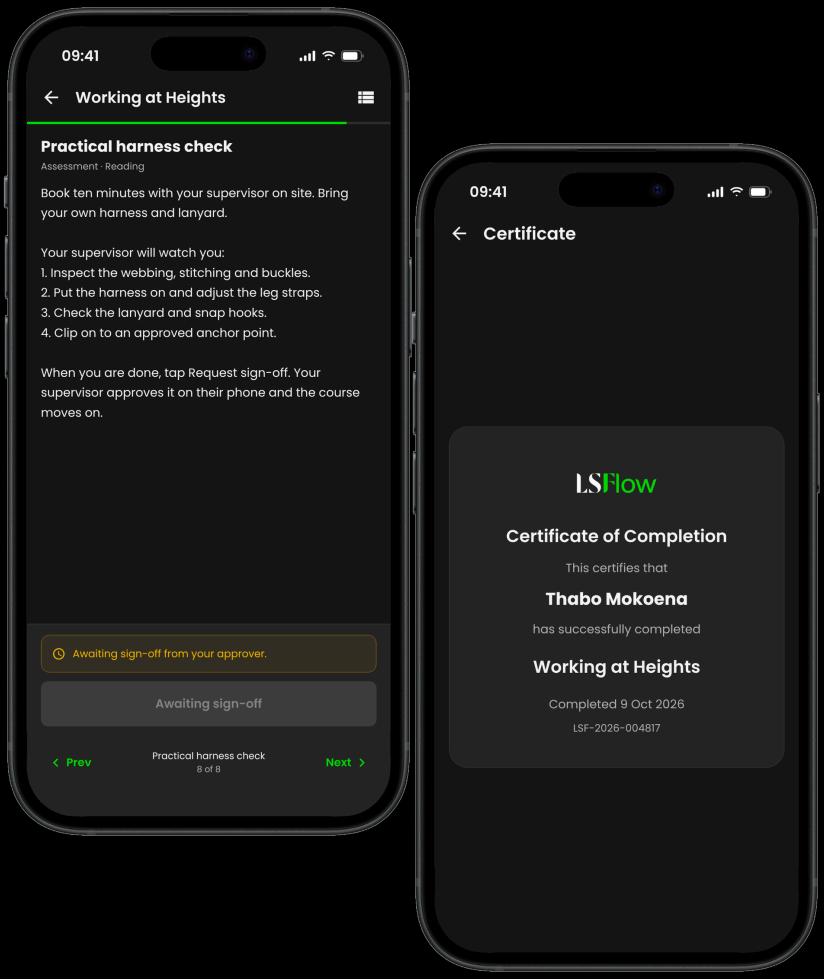

The employee's manager, a named person or any HR administrator.

Approve from anywhere

Managers approve in the app. HR approves on the web.

Numbered certificates

Issued on completion, on the employee's phone and downloadable by HR.

01

Learn

The employee works through the course on their phone.

02

Show

Their supervisor watches the practical and approves it.

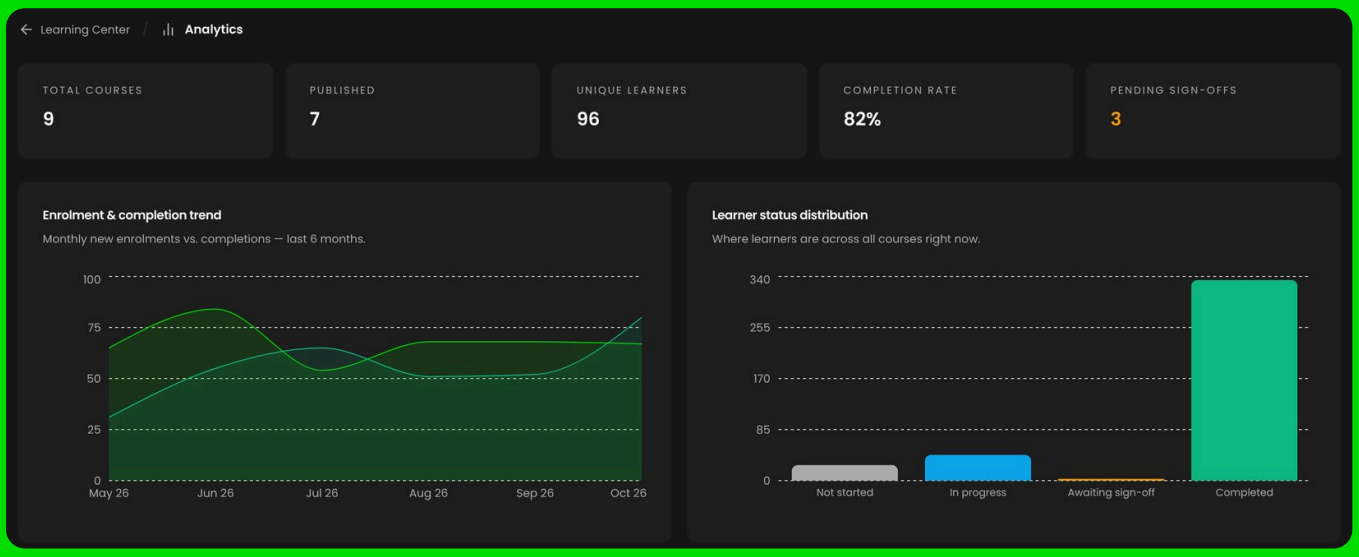

03

Certify

The course completes and a certificate is issued.

Know who is trained, and who isn't.

See completion across every course, department and quiz, and follow up before the due date passes.

By department

Completion rates per department, and the learners who are behind.

Quiz results

Pass rates, average scores and attempts for every quiz.

Export the record

Download learner progress for any course as a spreadsheet.
